Lighting installation at Mesa Community College

CLIENT Mesa Community College

DURATION 2 Months

Rosendin partnered with Graybar, an electrical distribution company, to install free lighting components at Mesa Community College's baseball facility. This donation gives local players access to lighting in the batting cages for the first time in the school's history, allowing players to practice after dark.

The baseball facility at Mesa Community College previously had no lighting equipment. When contacted for an estimate on the project, the team at Rosendin surprised school officials by donating their time and services to install the wiring, conduit, light switch and lights, which were donated by Graybar. Rosendin's skilled trade workers completed the project on February 18th, 2022, giving local college players the opportunity to utilize the facility and practice after dark.
