

Rosendin is the electrical contractor for an 18-story workplace tower with four levels of parking and 13 levels of office space. The building is part of Legacy Union, a two-block, 10-acre site in Uptown Charlotte, NC. Located near the Bank of America Stadium, the development includes four towers with Class A office and retail space. Two Legacy Union totals 433,970 square feet and includes 8,100 square feet of retail space, 313,300 square feet of office space, and a 110,000 square foot parking garage. The project is being built to achieve LEED-Gold certification.
