

A PARTNER IN ROSENDIN

In response to COVID-19, Rosendin stands ready to provide support for rapid mobilization of temporary health care facilities for our communities nationwide.

Helping Our Communities

Rosendin stands ready to provide support during emergency response efforts. Our teams of highly-skilled electricians, engineers, and industry experts are meeting challenges head-on, and we are here to help you find solutions to those challenges.

Our ability to respond to the needs of rapidly mobilizing temporary healthcare facilities, while assuring the quality and safety of our work product allows for effective and meaningful assistance to our communities during an emergency.

We can deploy tools, materials, and other resources across the country in an efficient manner to meet the needs in areas that are experiencing a more significant impact.

As situations evolve, we shift our resources to meet the needs of our partners.

ENSURING SAFETY, RESTORING COMMUNITIES

In times of need, Rosendin can provide you with rapid response services including the following:

- Design-Build Engineering
